

The Right Reverend Charlie Masters

CHARLIE MASTERS has been a leader among faithful Canadian Anglicans taking a stand for Biblical truth both within the Anglican Church of Canada and, more recently, in the Anglican Network in Canada (ANiC). In addition to his role with the Anglican Network in Canada, Charlie serves as Deputy Chair of the Anglican Church in North America (ACNA). While serving as an Anglican Church of Canada rector in an increasingly liberal diocese, Charlie was frequently called upon to take a stand and to speak the truth in hostile situations. Evangelism is Charlie's passion and the thrust of a booklet he authored, The Gospel Still Works. Charlie and his wife, Judy, make their home in Milton, Ontario. They are the proud parents of two children, both married.
